Hi, good afternoon. I am Shola Rochelle, this is the 4 o'clock news from JLDN.

Just in, President Donald Trump's ex-national security adviser Michael Flynn has been charged with making a false statement to the FBI in January. A court filing from the US special counsel's states that he lied about his connections with Russia's ambassador.

An illegal immigrant from Mexico who shot a woman in San Francisco in 2015 in what he said was an accident has been acquitted of her murder. The killing of Kate Steinle by Jose Ines, has left Donald Trump angry. Following the verdict, he tweeted: "A disgraceful verdict in the Kate Steinle case! No wonder the people of our country are so angry with illegal immigration."

Tune in at 4pm to find our the publics reactions to Donald Trump's twitter outbreak

MP Damian Green faces claims over thousands of pornographic images saved on his work computer. The former Scotland Yard officer Neil Lewis said the images were not extreme and featured no images of children or sexual abuse. He is also facing allegations of inappropriate behaviour towards a young conservative activist, Kate Malby. He denies all claims. Friends of Damian Green have accused former police officers of seeking to blacken his name.

The Royal Bank of Scotland is closing two-hundred and fifty-nine branches in a move that unions fear signals the end of high-street banking. The unite union said one-thousand roles faced the axe, although the bank, which is seventy-one percent owned by the taxpayer said the move would result in 680 redundancies after redeployment. an RBS spokesman said: "we realise this is difficult news for our colleagues and we are doing everything we can to support those affected."

Morrisons has been found liable for the actions of a former member of its staff who stole data of thousands of employees and posted it online.

Workers brought a claim towards against the company after employee Andrew Skelton stole the data, including salary and bank details of nearly 100,000 staff. A high court ruling now allows those affected to claim compensation for the upset and distress caused to the employees affected.

Prince Harry and Meghan Markle make their first public engagement since announcing their plans to marry. They were each given a Robin Hood badge by the Head of Nottigham city council. Continuing with the royals. Greg Polowitz, editor of Twitchy.com claims "Prince Harry's kids will be American. What if one grows up to be president and is in line for the throne at the same time."

Wow what an amazing idea! I definitely would encourage people to do this

Couldn't agree more, think people should do as much as they can for the homeless, especially around christmas time
