TO BEER OR NOT TO BEER

The average pint price across the UK is £3.80. The below pie chart shows whether the regions below this price fall into the North of the UK or the South

SOUTH

NORTH

The map above shows the most expensive pint (London, at £5.20) against the cheapest (Carlisle, at £2.35). The green area shows a hotspot area that combines areas rated to be the best nights out, along with being fairly cheap (with pints around the £3 mark). The read area shows the regions with the most expensive pints (stretching from Essex, across to Oxford).